Will Hold One. Meeting At Night

Bay Council

The Bay St. Louis city commission council has decided to hold one of its monthly meetings at night. The action was suggested Monday by Commissioner Andre Arceneaux because, as he said, "Itwould give the people a chance to have more voice in the government and would allow them to observe our actions firsthand."

The council now meets on the first and third Monday of the month at 10 a.m. but will meet on the third Monday at 7 p. m. The 16 a. m. time for the first Monday meeting will remain the same.

The three members of the council supported the change must Service a p. m. and mys inspected city at torney Gerald Cex to draw up any at the Gall (table)c an ordinance changing the bome decorations, Waveland PRESERVATION of three stately, old cake on the Bay St. Louis beach drive has been undertaken by the city, through Operation Upturn funding. The buffetings of time, storms and natural erosion have worn deep cavities beneath the trees, exposing the roots and threatening to destroy the cake. Retaining walls laced with tension cables have been built around the water side of each tree, which city crews fill with dirt from ditches and streets.

HISTORY IS ACIVE

Arriving in Sidon one discovers it is now a large fishing village, and its name in fact means 'fishing' Unnet preached a sermon here on one of his journeys. Sidon has found new prosperity as the site of the pipeline terminus which has brought a busile to the town and it is indeed a growing city. Modern shops and apartment house stand; on either side of a broad main street through the town. The street through the town. The major tourist attraction of Sidon is the famous Crusader castle built in 1228.

 tablespoon vegetable oil
 teaspoons sugar
 tablespoons Cointreau or Grand Marnier

1/2 cup milk or Grand Marnier
3/4 cup sifted all purpose flour liqueur
Drain ¼ cup liquid from oranges; reserve oranges and remaining liquid for sauce. Beat eggs; stir in milk and ¼ cup liquid from oranges. Stir in flour and sait; beat until smooth. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes. Brush 6-or 7-inch Teflon skillet lightly with oil. Set over moderately high heat until oil is just beginning to amoke. Pour about 2 tables spoons of the batter into middle of the pan. Quickly tilt pan so batter runs over the bottom of pan in a thin film. Pour back into bowl any batter that does not adhere to pan. Return pan to heat for about 20 seconds until underside of crepe is browned. Turn and brown the other side. Slide crepe out; keep covered in a warm place while making remaining crepes. To serve, pour oranges and liquid into chafing dish. Add sugar, Heat. Fold each crepe into quarters. Place crepes in syrup, spooning liquid over crepes, and heat gently. Add warmed I. Cointreau and ignite. Serve as soon as flame dies down.

YIELD: Makes about 8 crepes, 70 calories each.

But the court decided that the ordinance was indeed unconsti-

authority to keep peace as we see fit."

Of course, an outright ban on all parades is not common. Very common, however, is a requirement that paraders must first get a permit. Is this lesser restriction constitutional?

Mainly, it depends on the ground rules under which the permits are issued. In one city, he mayor had unlimited discreingement, tested in court, was a permit unless the marchers would be interfering unduly with the rights of other citizens in the use of the streets. This time, when a religious sect put on a parade without a permit, a court upheld the law and fined the paraders for disobeying it. The court said the right to march, like all other rights, could be confined within reasonable limits. "Civil liberties," added the court, "imply the existence of an organized society maintaining public order without which liberty diself would be lost." An American Bar Association public service feature by Will Bernard.

A few years ago, I saw an ad suggesting I could paint a room by myself in just a few hours. Need I tell you it took putty knife or sandpaner, Now to paint! Arm, your me a week to finish? Actually the painting itself took little more than half a day — it was the preparation and cleaning up that took so much time.

Since then I've done quite a bit of painting and have gotten it down to two days per clean up. Some of the things I've learned by experience may help you when you have that urge to paint!

Start by pushing the furni-ture into the middle of the room and covering it with an old sheet or bedspread. This means taking up rugs and taking down curtains, window shades, blinds and pictures, too! Once the walls are clear, mix a gallon of water with 1/4 cup of Lestoil in a pail and with a good sponge wipe down dirt-collecting areas like window panes, baseboards and moldings. Makes the painting job easier and smoother! Use a clean dust mop to wipe off the ceiling.

Next check for cracks. If you've found one, gouge out. the old, loose plaster with a beer-type can opener or an old screw driver, wet the crack well and then fill it in with a ready-mix plaster spackle. Let it set for about 15 minutes and then fold an old piece of sheeting into a smooth, flat pad. Wet it with water and gently wipe the freshly plastered surface. Thisgives it a slick, smooth finish so you won't have to struggle self with a wide roller and read your paint can: you'll find all the instructions printed right there. Only problem I still have is when I'm on top of the ladder with a roller full of paint, the phone rings. Never fails!

While I paint, I keep a rag or sponge and a pail of 1/4 cup of Lestoil mixed with a quart of water handy. It's great for wiping away spills and drips and saves trying to scrape them off with a razor olade when they've dried

After the ceiling it's all downhill - walls and baseboards go quickly and you can save the door jambs, window frames, sills and closets for last (or even do them another day if you don't have

Clean-up calls for your heavy duty cleaner again. This time 1 to 2 cups to a quart of warm water to wash out brushes, rollers and paint pans. If you forget a brush and let it harden suspend it in a jar of 1 part Lestoil to 5 parts water and let it soak overnight. It will be soft as new again.

Before you put back the window shades or blinds, give them a cleaning too. The easiest way to clean a washable-vinyl shade is to unroll it on bathroom floor. Put something heavy at either end and wipe the shade off with a mixture of 1/4 cup Lestoil in a gallon of warm water. Rinse well and wipe off with a dry cloth; then turn over and do the other side. You can hang it back in the window to finish drying.

Venetian blinds get a quick bath in a tub of warm water and 1 to 2 cups of Lestoil. Let them soak about 1/2 hour and then rinse with clean water (or, if you don't mind getting wet, turn on the shower!). You can let the blinds drain in the tub for a while and when they ve stop-ped dripping hang them back

O. L. Larson, 74-year old Pearlington resident, is in the lateralize care unit of Touro laffrmary Hospital in New Orleans from injuries received in an automobile accident Thursday.

Larson was severly injured when the van he was driving on Highway 90 in Waveland was struck by an automobile, drivenby Maurice Davis of Yazoo City. Highway patrolman Clyde Hester said the accident occured when Davis' car, proceeding west on the highway, jumped the median and collided with the van going in the opposite direction.

Larson was given emergency reatment at Hancock General Hospital for multiple lacerations and fractures of both legs, then transferred to Touro. Amputation of one of his legs has been necessary and doctors are attempting to save the other, according to reports.

Davis was treated for minor injuries at Hancock General then brought to the Hancock County jail, where he is being the Times-Picayune.

The Biloxi Chamber of Commerce joined two other coast chambers Thursday in opposing the proposed dredging of dead shell reefs.

Members also agreed to inform the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, which has jurisdiction over the reefs, of its position.

Last month the commission authorized dredging of oyster reefs. The chamber's action came after recent votes taken by the Pass Christian and Gulfport area chamber of commerce and the Gulf Coast Municipal Association.

Most fishermen know that salt water fish are caught best over shell reefs. In our way of thinking removing the shells from dead shell reefs will only cause mud bottoms; good for cat fish and other undesirable fish. did the moon-silhouetted face of a 19th century handyman inspire one of most famous poems?

... His eyes, how they twinkled!

His dimples, how merry! His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry! His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow, and the beard of his chin was as white as the snow" From a famous poem, probably one of the most cherished and well remembered in all of the English Written almost 150 years ago by Clement Clark Moore, this poem helped create one of the great legendary figures of all time, elf," Santa Claus (who up to that time was depicted as rather a gaunt and somber St. Nicholas whose living prototype had been an obscure ecclesiastic of the Fourth Century). There is no substantiated version of how Dr. Moore got his idea for this image, so different from most of those prevailing.

The actual image of Santa Claus, or St. Nicholas as Moore called him in the first version, may have come from the moon-silhouetted face of his handyman.

Legend holds that it was on a sleigh ride over the now packed New York streets of 1822 as he and his handyman, Peter, went from the estate to Greent wich Village to deliver Christmas presents.

The famous lines were set down by Moore at a writing desk in his home located on a 90-acre tract in a New York City area plump and jolly old down on the lower West Side where the wholesale flower market now stands.

> At the time, Moore was a professor of Oriental languages in the General Theoogical Seminary in New

According to tradition, Moore read the poem to his children that Christmas Eve, although it seems

This popular Southern dish combining blackeye peas and rice is thought to be of Spanish origin. There are several stories, however, concerning the origin of the name Hopping John Some say it began with a lively waiter at a fashionable Charleston hotel where this dish was a specialty. Others claim it originated with the custom that the children must hop once around the table before the dish is served.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were so afraid.

And the angel said unto them: Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multifude of the heavenly host, prais-ing God, and saying:

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: Let us now go, even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard

But Christmas songs weren't called carols, until well into the 13th Century, because, during most of the Middle Ages, priests and monks did all the singing inside the churches.

The people were only allowed to sing and dance outside, making up words and tunes about the birth of Christ. The French word 'carole" and the Italian "carola" both mean a ring dance accompanied by singing, and from this comes our word carol.

The first American Christmas carol was writ-always been associated with Christmas Day. They were used both on the tree, and lighted in the windows of the houses.

This is in keeping with the celebration of Christ's birthday; "Christmas" means "mass of Christ," the word derives from the church celebration of the day, which formed a very important part of the holiday observance in early medieval days.

It is not the actual birthday of Christ we observe. for that date is lost in legend. There was no celebration for over 200 years after His death!

The Romans had a great feast in honor of Saturn, the Sun god. This Saturnalia was held in December at the turn of the winter solstice. The northern races celebrated the Yuletide (heathen winter feast) at the same time, decorating trees with lights. These lighted trees were called

A traditional feature of the Christmas festive table is the boar's head. This legend, told in Queen's College, Oxford, provides a basis for the tradition:

A student, walking and reading in the woods on Christmas Day, was attacked by a wild boar. He New Year's celebration overpowered the boar by choking it with his book, a volume of Aristotle. Then he cut off the boar's head to retrieve his book and brought the head triumphantly to table.

Long ago, in the 13th century when Francis went about doing his good deeds in a dark world, he and a few of his companions were celebrating the festival of Christmas in the friars' lodging at Rieti. Some of the monks thought it fitting, because of the presence of a high ecclesiastic, to lay out a table "a bit special," and set out a table with white linen and glassware

When Francis saw the elegance of the table he called one of the monks and told him to tell the friars not to wait for him if he should not come promptly at mealtime.

When the friars had got midway into the feast there was a knock on the door. Francis entered, leaning heavily on a beggar's staff and advancing meekly as a pauper. In a beseeching voice he called out, "For the love of the Lord God, give alms to this poor, infirm pilgrim!

To predict a world of to solve all our problems, where men actually live in harmony with one another throughout the earth, would have amounted to lunacy, as well.

Yet at Christmastime, every year, men of good will and indomitable faith continue to hope for such a world.

Is it any farther-fetched han man's dreaming of landing on the moon?

For if ever Man had evidence of oneness among humanity, he experienced it at moon-landing, 1969. Wise men today know it is one Through modern tech-

How easily one can become engulfed in the wrappings, in the outward and visible display of the Season . . . and lose sight of the true meaning!

Christmas is based on kind-plan to live it well worthwhile things . . . communicating with family and friends in various, timeconsuming ways . . .

There are cards to be addressed and mailed ... or taken to a special mailbox for distribution. There is an air of hospitality you should observe. (Only a Scrooge would frown on this!) There are fixings-up of the house, choosing decorations, foods to prepare . . . gifts to make or buy. Even if the purchase costs little, there is the special time for the special gifts.

And who would begrudge the spending of time on these happy duties? In fact, most of us enjoy the doing, even though we get footsore and weary, and perhaps foolishly overspend.

Just so we do not lose the whole point of Christmas. just so the celebration is not iquandered and becomes dull, or part of a too-oftenrepeated pattern.

Let us try to salvage the true delights of Christmas, as a hild would enjoy it. Not in childishness, but in childlike Cycler, a renascence of the joyous spirit that we sometimes permit

What Keeps Mississippi Running?

On the average, every man, woman and child will use three gallons of oil on Saturday, another three on Sunday. So will every other American. The United States uses 600 million gallons of oil every day. Oil and natural gas supply 75 percent of all our energy needs. A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

When the Three Wise Men, led by the star, came from the Orient to worship at the Crib in Bethlehem, they brought with them gifts meant for a King. Along with gold and precious stones, they brought medicinal and aromatic herbs and spices (such as frankincense and myrrh) then numbered among the world's most treasured possessions.

It is clear from Biblical writings that the early Hebrews prized the "vegetable drugs" very highly and they had great respect for the physician and the physician's assistant, the apothecary (pharmacist).

Beginning with the Book of Exodus, the Bible makes mention of these two "health team" members and of the methods. they used to heal the sick. Bandages, applications of oil and of oil mixed with wine, salves, poultices, roots and leaves were the tools the Biblical physician used in order to practice his profession.

Fortunately, times have changed since then. Today's physician can count on hundreds of useful drugs to help him in his fight against disease. And, thanks to modern research, under your Christmas Star there's an invisible gift health and long life.
